Leading Provider of Risk Based Inspection and Asset Integrity Services and Technology to the Petrochemical Sector Expands Market Coverage with Project at ConocoPhillips Lost Cabin Gas Plant

May 11, 2011- Houston, TX – Pinnacle Asset Integrity Services (PAIS), the leading provider of services and technology specializing in improving asset integrity for the oil and gas, chemical, and mining industries, announced today that it has been working with ConocoPhillips for several months to enhance its current inspection and reliability program at its gas plant located near Lost Cabin, Wyoming.

Managed by Sean Hannigan, the project is focusing on adding value to both the plant's inspection drawings and their integration with the facility's inspection data management system (IDMS). Both efforts aim at increasing the effectiveness and efficiency of the inspection work performed at the facility, thereby enhancing inspection data quality and personnel safety and effectiveness.

"This project marks the first in our business with ConocoPhillips, and Pinnacle is excited to come alongside this plant and help it improve the value of its inspection efforts", Sean commented. "While mechanical integrity has been a longtime focus in the refining industry, we are now seeing the same benefits arise out of its application to upstream facilities."
